Fermer Chief of Police in Minneapolis Taken to State Prisen

DECLARES HE OBEYED ORDERS.

Municipal Corruption Is Affirmed by the State Supreme Court.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Minneapolis, Minn., July 13.-Peed W. Ames, former Chief of Police of Minneapolis, is now known as No. 1663 on the regis er of the State Penitentlary at Stillwater. Saturday morning at 6 o'clock the former ommander of the Thirteenth Minnesota boarded an interorban car and went to St Paul, where they had breakfast, Later they took an Omalo train for Stillwater, and a fittle before 10 o'clock they arrived at the State prison.

and Sheriff Iweger and Deputy Sheriff Loth

They were met at the gate by Deputy Warden Glenn, and in a short time the Sheriff has delivered his papers and the for-mer Chief of Police, who has been convicted of the charge of accepting a paltry $15 from woman of the town in return for "protection," had been shaved and shorn and atdred in the garb of a convict.

There was a trying scene at the prison A number of the guards were members of the regiment which Colonel Ames commanded in the Philippines, and while they ympathized with him in his troudes, they could do nothing but treat him as any other

Police was taken to the room of the Depaty Warden and given a copy of the rules to read. It has not been decided to which fine of work he will be assigned, but, in view of the fact that he has had considerable experionce in a clerical capacity, it is thought will be employed in some similar position in the State institution. Colonel Ames had little to say to the officers who took him to the Penitentiary. He declared that he had obeyed orders, as his military training had taught him, and he regretted that his wife and family would suffer more than he "We can only say that It presents a case of the clearest and most palpable sort of crruption, and a wilful and flagrant violation of official duty. The evidence is so lear and persuasive, and so fully justifles the verdict, that it would be nothing less han usurpation of power in us to disturb So declared Justice Brown of the Supreme Court in the opinion he handed down yesterday denying a new trial to Colonel Fred W. Ames, former Superintendent of Police of Minneapolis, who was taken to the Penitentiary at Stillwater yesterday. Continuing the Justice said:

"We have considered all the assignments of error made by the defendant, not specifically referred to, and find no error justifying a new trial; and the result is that the order appealed from is affirmed," The court asserts there was an agreement between Chief Ames and "Reddy" Coher relative to the collection of the "graft." There was no evidence to the effect that the late Chief and Cohen had conversed about the matter, but the court holds that it was proper to admit testimeny which might show there was an understanding. On this the following cable message from Cardinal point the court says:

This evidence was sufficient to warran the jury in finding that the officers named, including defendant and Cohen, conspired and confederated together to commit the unlawful acts complained of, and that defendant authorized and directed Cohen to receive the money for him."

On the point that testimony as to other payments of money was improp erly admitted, the court distinguishes the Ames case from that of the late Captain John A. Fitchette, who was granted a new trial after he had died.

Justice Brown says it was not intended to lay down a hard and fast rule in the Ames case.

"Evidence of the commission of other rimes is admissible, says the opinion, wher it tends corroboratively or directly to estab lish the defendant's guilt of the crime charged in the indictment on trial, or some ssential ingredient of such offense."

Mrs. Minnie Cummings Declares Jury Should Not Have Convicted Her of Murder.

VERDICT A GREAT SURPRISE.

Jurors, After Fixing Ten Years Imprisonment as Punishment, Appeal to Judge Douglas for Leniency.

"I do not believe I got justice." Mrs. Minnie Cummings in these few words yesterday afternoon expressed her opinion of the verdict of the jury which fixed her punishment for killing her husband, Dennis Cummines, at ten years' im prisonment in the Penitentiary. Still weak from the trying ordeal through which the had passed, Mrs. Cummings stood near her cell door in the city jail yes terday afternoon and discussed for The Republic the result of her trial.

As stated in The Republic yesterday norning, the jury agreed on the verdict about 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. It was caled and delivered to Deputy Sheriff Jas. McEnneny At 19 o'cloc's yesterday morning the twelve jurous filed into Judge Douglas's

Judge Douglas read the appeal. He will be powerless, lawyers say, to comply with it. The jury in its verdict has assessed the minimum punishment for murder in the second degree and Judge Douglas cannot undo it. Mrs. Cummings's only hope now lies in a new trial or a reversal of the verdict by the Supreme Court. Colonel John I. Martin, chief counsel for the defendant, says he will file the motion for a new trial in the time prescribed by law, four days. Failing in this, he declares he will appeal to the Supreme Court, The chief ground for an appeal, it is be lleved, will be that the defendant was

Mrs. Cummings was unable to walk down the stairs from the courtroom to the fail for more than half an hour after the ver dist was read. New York, July 13.-An extraordinary break in the Liverpool market was the impetus for an early pronounced slump in the local cotton pit to-day, where considerable excitement prevailed. Prices locally opened lown about 9 to 20 points, under a fairly active selling movement.

There was apparently no bull support in the early session, and, encouraged by this, the bear element forced a further small decline, which extended to 45 points in the August option. Shorts covered actively on the downward movement, and inter there was a moderate will from the low wist.

Another factor partly responsible for the tumbling of values here was the excellent weather outlook
